

Virginia's Conservation Reserve Enhancement Program

Purpose: CREP protects environmentally sensitive areas and improves water quality by restoring degraded wetlands and establishing vegetative buffers along streams and other eligible water bodies.

Sign up at your local USDA Service Center, Farm Service Agency (FSA) office.

Where Applicable: CREP contracts of 10 or 15 years are available in the Chesapeake Bay watershed and in certain watersheds in the Southern Rivers region. Eligible lands include pasture and cropland adjacent to streams, intermittent streams, seeps, springs and ponds. Trees or a shrub/grass mix may be used to plant grass buffers. Livestock must be excluded from the buffers.

Payments to Landowners:

Landowners will receive an annual rental payment of up to $100 per acre in the Chesapeake Bay watershed or up to $90 in the Southern Rivers watersheds.

Sign-up Incentive Payment (SIP): $10 per acre per year for 10 years. This is a one-time payment after the contract is signed. (FSA)

Federal Cost-Sharing:

Fifty percent of the allowable cost of installing all practices, including watering troughs, fencing, hardwood tree planting and more. Payment is made after practices are installed.

Practice Incentive Payment (PIP):

After all practices are completely installed, the participant receives a one-time payment of 40 percent of the average cost of installation. In addition, the Commonwealth of Virginia will cost-share up to an additional 25 percent, not to exceed $300 per acre, after all practices are completed.

Landowners' Responsibilities:

Landowners will retire enrolled pasture or cropland and maintain buffers for the length of the contract period.

Agency Responsibilities:

USDA, Natural Resources Conservation Service:

Provides design and supervision of installation of conservation practices.

Farm Service Agency:

Administers program and measures buffers.

Virginia Department of Forestry:

Recommends tree species. May supervise and help with tree planting.

Virginia Department of Conservation & Recreation:

At landowners' request, offers a voluntary perpetual conservation easement option; $1,000 per acre.

Soil & Water Conservation District:

Approves tax credit eligibility.
